

Eclectic New Issues from IGPC

by John F. Dunn

One of the wonderful aspects of our hobby is the tremendous variety of forms in which it can be enjoyed. One of the many increasingly popular options is topic, in part because within that are hundreds of different themes that can be selected. With that in mind, to demonstrate the point, I turned to the website of the Inter-Governmental Corporation of New York and selected a few of the recent new issues that are currently available.

To browse scores of other topics and hundreds of other issues, go to the IGPC website, www.igpc.com.
